

HATE: A NEGATIVE EMOTION AND IMPACT ON SOCIAL BEHAVIOR

Dr. Paras Jain

Director, Silicobyte Katni Degree College,
Dikshabhumi Campus, Adharkap, Katni (M.P)

Keywords: Emotion, Communities, Social Behavior

ABSTRACT

Hate is an emotion realized by depth of heart and never ends. It is a negative emotion however, some people like hating persons, communities, races etc. A person who hates someone has heart filled with negative emotions and does not want to realize truth. This emotion is painful for both sides and increase with time. If hate is not removed from heart timely it may destructive. Present study is focused on finding of value of hate and its impact.

INTRODUCTION

Hate has been present in our society for a long time. For whatever reason, a person does not like another person or a group because they are different. The reason could be looks, skin color, sex preference, religion, culture, language, state, nation etc. Hate is built up inside of heart and can lead to violence and sometimes death. Hate seems so ridiculous, but it occurs.

Hate could be spread through competition and the feeling that you, or your people s way of life is the best and others are inferior. Low self-esteem could bring someone to hate because the feeling of hatred towards another person or group may be the only thing they feel good about. The ever present feeling of hate needs to change into acceptance, forgiveness and feeling of humanity, kindness etc.

Thousands of people are physically and sometimes brutally attacked in hate crimes in all over world. If a person hates someone he has an extremely strong feeling of dislike for that person. However, being mainstream and educated does not guarantee a young person will be impervious to hate. At present many educated persons are working as tool to spread hate.

Hate is a curse for developed society. Developed society should be based on acceptance for everyone. We have invented so many chemical, physical and biological weapons and are using to nurture hate. Terrorism based on hate has extended terror all over the world. Feeling of peace, happiness and welfare for all may save humanity.

OBJECTIVE

- Finding of hatred feeling among male persons and its negative impact on social behavior
- Finding of hatred feeling among female persons and its negative impact on social behavior

HYPOTHESIS

1. There is no significant hatred feeling among male persons and its negative impact on social behavior.
2. There is no significant hatred feeling among female persons and its negative impact on social behavior.

METHODOLOGY

Descriptive survey method was adopted for this study. 150 male and 150 female of age 21-50 years were randomly selected as sample. 50% rural and 50% urban were accompanied in sample. They were tested for finding of value of hate and its impact on social behavior using self-prepared questionnaire. Hatred value is measured at 30 point scale and impact is measured as less negative, negative and very negative. Collected data was tabulated and comparatively analyzed using percentile as statistical tool.

FINDING AND ANALYSIS

Table-1: Status of Feeling of Hatred

Gender	Age Group	No. of Persons %
		Value of Hatred
		0-10	11-20	21-30
Male	21-30 Year	54	35	11
	31-40 Year	58	34	8
	41-50 Year	61	32	7
Female	21-30 Year	57	34	9
	31-40 Year	51	42	7
	41-50 Year	55	39	6

Table-2: Impact of Feeling of Hatred on Social Behavior

Gender	Age Group	No. of Persons %
		Less Negative	Negative	Very Negative
Male	21-30 Year	11	57	32
	31-40 Year	17	55	28
	41-50 Year	21	53	26
Female	21-30 Year	8	58	34
	31-40 Year	11	57	32
	41-50 Year	17	54	29

Chart-1: Status of Feeling of Hatred

Chart-2: Impact of Feeling of Hatred on Social Behavior

Data table exhibits that among male of age 21-30 years 54% have value of have 0-10 while 35% have 11-20 and 11% have 21-30 hate value. The value varies for age group 41-50 years as 61%, 32% and 7% respectively. Impact shows that very negative data is 32% for 21-30 years and 28% for 31-40 years and 26% for 41-50 years. On the other hand, less negative impact increases from 11% to 21%. Hence hypothesis 1, there is no significant hatred feeling among male persons and its negative impact on social behavior is rejected.

Data related to female indicates that among 21-30 year female 57% have 0-10, 34% have 11-20 and 9% 21-30. For age group 31-40 year females higher value decreases from 9% to 7%. For age group 41-50 years, 55% got 0-10, 39% scored 11-20 and 6% 21-30 hate value. Very negative impact value is calculated 34% for 21-30 years, 32% for 31-40 years and 29% for 41-50 years while less negative value observed 8%, 11% and 17% respectively. Thus hypothesis 2, there is no significant hatred feeling among female persons and its negative impact on social behavior is rejected.

CONCLUSION

Value of hate found in male is greater than female and decreases with age. Hate is never ending feeling and destroying all. Hate is nurturing because of lack of morality. We need to remove it from our hearts. All education systems should be based on peace and wellness for all. Everyone should have desire to see all happy and prosperous. We should nurture feelings of sacrifice, respect and love. All persons should concern only humanity and no violence. This is the only way to keep apart hate.

REFERENCES

1. <http://www.partnersagainsthate.org>
2. Iganski, P., Hate violence is a global problem – and a crime against humanity, <https://theconversation.com>, 25 June 2015.
3. Brown, R., Walters, M., & Paterson, J., How hate crime affects a whole community, <http://www.bbc.com>, 12 Jan. 2018
4. <https://www.teachers.ab.ca>
5. <https://www.kibin.com>